Theatre Rules

During the sensory relaxed performance, relax, and express yourself freely, and just be you. We aim to create a inclusive, comfortable atmosphere where everyone feels welcomed and supported. To keep the show running smoothly and ensure everyone's safety, here are some house rules to follow at the theatre.

- The stage and backstage are for the actors and crew only, not for the audience.
- Audience areas inside the theatre are the box office, foyer, and auditorium. Audience areas outside the theatre are the courtyard, toilets, amphitheatre, and quiet room.
- Food and non-alcoholic beverages are welcome inside the theatre.
- Children must be accompanied by a parent or guardian to sit in the balcony, use the quiet room, or exit the foyer.
- The seat matching your ticket is yours for the entire show. You may come and go from your seat as much as you'd like, but you can't change seats during the show. If you don't like your allocated seat, ask an usher to help you change seats before the show begins. If there are spare seats available the usher will try to reseat you, but this may not always be possible. Please refer to the colour seating chart before booking seats to ensure you find a seat that's right for you.
- Beanbags and floor cushions are used on a first come, first served basis, and cannot be booked or reserved. Keep in mind that multiple children may want to use the cushions and beanbags, so please share.
- After the performance, you'll be able to meet the actors from the show. The actors use a lot of energy in their performance and get pretty hot afterward. Please respect the actor's need for personal space so they can cool down and relax. High fives are always welcome!
- You may bring a comfort item such as a fidget toy, ear defenders, a small cushion, a blanket, or another small item you need to feel relaxed during the show.
- Everyone is unique and will need to express themselves differently. The performance is a no judgement zone. Please be supportive of your fellow theatregoers, and if you need help resolving any issues please come speak to an usher.
- It's ok to clap and cheer, or sit quietly. It's ok to like the show, or not like it. It's ok to close your eyes, take a break, wear earplugs or stim. It's ok to just be you!
